Yankees Increase Lead by Easy Victory—Dempsey Makes Tate Quit in Second Round

Peck Contributes Two Circuit Clouts; Athletics' Pitchers Trounced, 11-4

The so-called "Murderer's Row" of e Mack's pitchers left little doubt that they are rightfully named. Their that they are rightfully named. Their long-distance and terrific walloping netted the Yankees an easy victory by a score of 11 to 4.

Again heading the bombardment was Rajah Peckinpaugh, who jumped to the lead of the American League batsmen the day before. Peck whaled the ball for three resounding smacks in his five trips to the plate yesterday, including two home runs. True the second probably could have been held to a three-base hit, but it was a healthy drive nevertheless.

Duffy Lewis appeared near the top as usual with two hits, one being a homer. Five circuit drives in all were made by the galloping Yanks, a couple of near-homers were registered and considerable long distance shooting by both nines featured the afternoon's play. Quite some bombardment as a whole.

Harry Sparrow, in his tour of the grounds after the game said he overheard a dark gentlemen tersely remark that if "those Yankee boys didn't let up pretty soon a well-known firm would run out of socks."

Youngsters Made Happy

Youngsters Made Happy
A party of school youngsters spending their annual picnic or outing in the left field bleachers will not soon forget the day. They were kept so busy grabbing the balls as they dropped into the stands that they had little time to watch their heroes. But they are the happier probably because they will have a couple of big league baseballs to play with this summer. Incidentally, Bob Shawkey chalked up his eighth straight victory for the season. The victory also gave the Yankees a firmer grip on first place, as the White Sox lost to the Cleveland Indians.

kees a firmer grip on first place, as the White Sox lost to the Cleveland Indians.

Shawkey was opposed in the first inning by Tom Rogers. The latter lasted just one whole inning, when he foresook the mound in favor of the midget Thompson, who appeared at the start as though he might have quite a little stuff packed away in his left wing. As there was no noticeable letup in the attack, the fans became convinced that he didn't have as much stuff as was apparent in the beginning. Sammy Vick drew a base on balls for an opener and the gunning quickly increased when Peck singled for his fifth hit in a row. A sacrifice by Baker, which Rogers took and heaved badly to Thomas, let in Vick. Duffy Lewis then cleaned the bases with a drive that carried far into the leftfield bleachers. First round.

Keep Up Bombardment

Pipp started up the fireworks again with another walk and was forced by Pratt at second. Bodie hit to Shannon, who threw him out, but Pratt kept on to third on the play and who scored when Burns made a bad heave to Thomas to head him off. Hannah was safe on an error by Thomas. Shawkey singled, but Vick ended the inning by grounding to Dugan.

Home runs aided the Vanks to score in the succeeding innings. Baker hit into the upper tier of the right-field stand in the second. Hannah shot one into the left-field bleachers in the next period, scoring Bodie, who had singled ahead of him. Peck boosted another into the bleachers for the kida to scramble for, and his drive to deep wentre in the sixth gave him his second homer, at the same time scoring Vick.

The A's might have made a better showing if their pitchers could have MEXICO CITY, June 23.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, defeated Bob Roper, of Chicago, in an unintercating ten-round bout in a bullring here yesterday. The negro proved unpopular with the crewd, and once, when he made atrong remarks because of the crowd's partisanship, the spectators hissed and demanded his arrest.

Roper was too weak for the ex-champion and proved a plaything or Johnson all through the bout. Financially the fight was a failure. Roper recently was discharged from the United States

By W. O. McGeehan

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 23 .- Bill Tate, the sombre Senegambian, who almost upset Jack Dempsey yesterday, was punished for lese majeste to-day. The contender made the dark villain sit down twice to meditate this afternoon. Once it was a left hook to the pit of the stomach and once a right swing to the jaw.

the work to five rounds and a half, two rounds with the Jamaica Kid, two with Jock Malons, the St. Paul welter, whose hair is cut a la Mike Gibbons, and one and a half with Bill Tate. Bill was scheduled to go two, but the middle of the second round found him squatting on his haunches wondering which of the fourteen men in the ring was Dempsey. Bill did not look as though he had posed for the punch.

Of course, the skeptical are ready to intimate that Tate was under orders to take a few. If this were true, William certainly carried out orders and was a martyr to his contract. There are some who are inclined to think that Dempsey has gone a bit stale because of the layoff, but it seems to me this was wise. The added weight which he has accumulated will be very useful to him on the Fourth.

Sam Langford, the Boston Tar Baby, visited the Dempsey camp to-day. The Tar Baby was mildly amused when he saw his former rival, Bill Tate, dusting the resin from his tights.

Langford Picks Willard

"Bill looks kind of natural kissing the canvas," remarked Sam. "I don't think that Dempsey has a chance at ail. Willard ought to beat him easily. He will win by a knockout and whenever he wants to, I am quite sure of that. Dempsey misses too much and he leaves himself wide open for a man like Mr. Willard."

With a seventy-two hole total of 334 strokes, Allan F. Poinsette once again captured the press championship of the New York Newspaper Golf Club over the links of the Englewood Country Club yesterday. Last week Frank M. Gould, with rounds of 80 and 85, finished three strokes better than Poinsette.

In the morning the ultimate winner went over the layout in 84, and later clipped two strokes from this mark for a thirty-six hole total of 166. Gould took 87 early in the day, and then needed 90 in the afternoon for a total of 177.

The Dempsey enthusiasts who had become a trifle thoughtful last night after seeing Bill Tate find William Harrison's chin with such celerity, ease and precision, brightened visibly this afternoon. Of course, Dempsey's practice work does not signify a great deal. Jack Kearns, his manager, announces that Dempsey is not a showy gymnasium worker. "He is not a boxer," says Jack. "He is a fighter." Willard rested to-day and spent part of the afternoon watching himself in the movies. The champion admits that William Hart has something on him as an actor, but Jess will continue his efforts to elevate the silent drama when he winds up his engagement here; provided, of course, he winds up bempsey at the same time. The champion does not seem to have the slightest doubt as to the result. His reservations are ready and right after the fight he probably will be on his way to New York with $100,000 in Liberty bonds tucked neatly and unostentatiously in the inside pocket of his gray coat with the fountain pen well filled for the signing of more moving picture contracts.

The Giants, after a successful tour gin a long series of home games, after short jaunt around the Eastern The McGraw clan will begin ers on Ebbets Field this afternoon.

Manager McGraw is quite pleased with the progress the team is making, and especially the way it came through the Western series. The Giants left home on June 4, four games in the lead of the Cincinnati club, the runner-up. The locals are still in front by a margin of two and a half games, with Cincinnati still in the contender's position.

Brooklyn did not fare so well on its journey. Uncle Robbie and his squad left home in third place, being right on the heels of the Reds. A long string of reversals shoved them down to sixth place, but they managed to recover somewhat, and are now back at the top of the second division.

Pete Kilduff, a former Giant, and who has been with the Cubs, will be seen with the Dodgers, having joined the Easterners in exchange for Lee Magee. It is likely Manager Robinson will use Kilduff either at second or short soon.
